"MAC" SENIORS DEFEATED BY ARTS '19-'20

Big Score Piled up Despite Cold Saturday.

VISITORS ENTERTAINED.

Game Featured With Individual Rushes Ended With Score 7-1.

On Saturday afternoon, the team representing the combined forces of Arts '19 and '20, travelled out to Ste. Anne's to play the Macdonald College Seniors. As the contest had been previously rather widely advertised, a large number of supporters from the two classes, in addition to the men composing the team, took the opportunity to partake of the hospitality of the Agricultural students. At 1.30 a crowd of some twenty-five hopeful Juniors and Sophomores in Arts, together with several from other faculties, were assembled in the station, and after a short delay while the tickets were being procured, proceeded to board the train.

The trip to Ste. Anne's was uneventful, although those who made the trip tried to enliven the monotony by giving a few yells and murdering some of the college songs. The players were met at their destination by a deputation from the Agricultural College, and set out for the men's building. There they were conducted to a room where skates were deposited and uniforms donned, a rather motley array being the result, although several McGill outfits had been obtained for the occasion. After dressing, the men proceeded to the local rink, and after entering the dressing-room there, put on their skates and prepared for the encounter. By a curious coincidence, the date was the anniversary of a basketball match between the McGill team and the Macdonald boys.

After a short preliminary practice, by way of warming up (the cold being intense), the teams were called to the centre of the ice, and straightway the game began. Although a small number of "rooters" were on hand to cheer on the Arts players, the great majority of those on the side-lines were Macdonald supporters, and these were almost as much in evidence as their team. The contest started with a hot rush on the part of Holtham and Jack Galley, followed by the Macdonald team. From then the rubber travelled from end to end of the rink, neither side displaying much combination play, although the agricultural students seemed to be doing more passing than their opponents. The Arts men were relying almost entirely on individual work, which was perhaps the most effective method, as the ice was exceedingly hard in account of the cold, and a slight roughness made passes difficult.

It was not until the game had lasted nearly three minutes that the first goal was scored for Arts '19-'20, by Martin, who beat out Richardson after a pretty rush. Great applause went from the little knot of McGill supporters at the first tally.

he puck was faced again and play proceeded. Macdonald were pressing hard, but were unlucky in front of the goal, while the Arts defence, composed of Galley and Mackinnon, were decidedly effective. Finally, rough some hard work, Galley latched another for the Junior-Sophomore team, placing the Arts men ahead to the tune of 2-0.

The agricultural men were not discouraged, however, by their unfortunate start, and worked hard to score after the face. Several combination rushes were checked by "Bart" Holtham, who was putting up a great game at centre. It was not until after a nice individual rush by the Macdonald forward line that Ness tallied the first goal for his team. The score was now 2-1 in favour of the Junior-Sophomore line-up.

Play was resumed, and gradually the Arts men assumed the offensive, MacGibbon putting a hot one past Richardson on a pass from Holtham for a third tally. Time was called with the "Mac" men still two goals behind their adversaries.

The second period commenced with the Arts men still attacking, Martin using his weight to good effect. Masson put in some good work at this point, and tallied shortly after the whistle on a speedy rush through the opposing team. Macdonald made a stout defence, and combined in their attacks, but somehow were unable to get the rubber past Ford, who was playing an effective game in goals for the '19-'20 boys. Some see-saw play followed, Smith doing good work in the teeth of the Macdonald defence. Reed was hurt by accident, and retired from the game, his loss weakening the agricultural aggregation somewhat.

Shortly afterwards, MacGibbon and Holtham brought off a good combination rush, and the former scored.

McGILL SETS THE PACE IN Y. CAMPAIGN

David Porter Opens Campaign for Ceylon Work.

OVER $800.00 ALREADY.

Collectors Hope that General Student Response Will be Correspondingly Generous.

Following up the very successful reception and supper in Stratheona Hall on Saturday evening, in honour of the arrival of David Porter, and as the opening of the financial campaign for Y.M.C.A. work in Ceylon, a mass meeting was held in the Union yesterday afternoon at 3.00 p.m. A fairly large audience was in attendance, and the various speakers of the occasion were listened to with a great deal of interest.

Mr. Wm. Birks occupied the chair, and in opening the meeting he stated that no one need apologize for appearing before an audience on behalf of missions. One can hardly be loyal to Christ without having the missionary spirit. A spirit which does not cost some sacrifice is a mere mockery, and therefore the chairman felt no need for apology in making this appeal for finances.

The first speaker called upon was Rev. R. E. S. Taylor, who is home from China, and who represents one of the boards. He remarked that he felt no obligation to apologize for appearing as a missionary; for was not the greatest man of all a missionary. Christ was a wonderful missionary. We owe all to missionaries. St. Paul went to Europe, and hence the Christianizing influence was spread among our ancestors, and hence fell to our heritage. The man, therefore, who says that he doesn't believe in foreign missions doesn't believe in Christ. The speaker then went on to say that it was his opinion that had there been more of the missionary spirit this present world struggle might have been averted.

Mr. Taylor, in speaking of the Chinaman, referred to him as "John," and he remarked that John, though often accused of being slow and unprogressive, had not been merely a looker-on in this war, but by undertaking much of the menial work in France, had set the Frenchman free to go to the front.

In this matter of missions, continued the speaker, we have got to go at the business in a businesslike way. Can we give less than our best when we stop to consider what Christ gave?

The chairman, after a few brief remarks introduced Dr. Jane Allyn as the next speaker. Dr. Allyn has recently returned from India, where she has been actively engaged in missionary work among the depressed peoples of that country. She stated that when India was referred to the reference was in general taken to be to the depressed classes, which constitute so great a proportion of India's population. However, Ceylon is entirely different in this respect, as it is almost devoid of this poor and depraved class, and the work of the McGill branch is among better classes. In referring to these depressed classes, among which her work was chiefly centred, Dr. Allyn stated that the great majority of converted Christians come from these unfortunate peoples, who are banned from associating with the upper classes, and are even regarded as lacking a soul. Christianity offers their only escape from this state of depravity. The speaker remarked that one of the greatest mistakes of the British government was that there is no religious teaching in connection with the Government schools. The Y.M.C.A. and Y.W.C.A. are providing the people with that very necessary element in their lives. Many young men of India owe all that they have in culture and education to the Y.M.C.A. In conclusion Dr. Allyn said that McGill has a great opportunity, and expressed the hope that soon the University would have a lady representative in Ceylon.

David R. Porter was then introduced, and he opened his speech with a touching reference to the manner in which the significance of the Canadian student's sacrifice was first brought home to him in connection with the first Northfield conference, succeeding the outbreak of the war. He referred to the broken ranks of the Canadian student representatives at that session. The speaker then emphasized the necessity that those of us who feel that we are justified, under existing circumstances, in continuing our University work should be determined to do something in the nature of self-sacrifice—some tangible form of sacrifice. The speaker referred to the response with which his appeal was met in the United States, and to the fact that during the last few months the students of that country had subscribed over one million

PILLARS OF SOCIETY.

Those who are fond of studying character and of reading character sketches would enjoy reading a little book published in the Wayfarers' Library under the above title. The author is Mr. A. G. Gardiner, Editor of the London Daily News, and in spite of his political opinions, he seems to have descended from the party platform when describing the characters of the greatest men of his generation. Nor does he confine his work to the famous men of Great Britain, but includes several of the statesmen and most prominent figures in Canada and the United States. Beginning with an inspiring sketch of King George V., in which he reveals many personal traits in His Majesty's character, Mr. Gardiner proceeds to outline the characters of such men as Lord Kitchener, President Wilson and Sir Wilfrid Laurier. His style is easy and fluent, makes most interesting reading, and suits the nature of his subject to the letter.

One of the best of these short sketches is that of our recent visitor, Sir F. E. Smith, who was at the time plain Mr. Smith. He was one of the first Conservatives who were elected to the British Parliament after the general election of 1906, and first took his seat at a time when his party was broken and down-hearted to a degree which had seldom been preceded in English history. Mr. Gardiner describes the situation as follows:—

"A young man elaborately dressed, slim and clean shaven, with a long hatchet face, scornful lip, defiant eye, and hair oiled and smooth. He stands with his head thrust forward and his hands in his pockets, and in a suave, self-assured voice delivers a speech of brilliant insolence and invective. It acts upon the depressed ranks like magic. They sit up, they laugh, they cheer, a leader is calling them back from flight. A new star is emerging from the gloom. And Mr. F. E. Smith sits down with his political fortune made."

This is only one example of the many striking passages contained in "Pillars of Society." Few more healthy mental exercises can be found than the study of the characters of truly great men. When written by a talented journalist they lend a new stimulus to those who have yet to make their way in the world. Too many biographies contain long and detailed descriptions of political campaigns and great speeches, but the incidents which appeal to a young man are the trivial anecdotes of a personal nature which bring to front the private character of the subject, on which his success is based. The comparatively small and important actions of great men often exemplify courage and perseverance in a much more impressive manner than the broader description of a public career.

APPEAL FOR MCGILL CEYLON MISSION.

David R. Porter, following up the introductory gathering of Saturday evening, made a touching appeal on behalf of the McGill Ceylon Mission at a mass meeting held in the Union yesterday afternoon. The urgency and importance of the cause, so eloquently emphasized and so earnestly expressed, met with a hearty response. The actual campaign, however, starts this morning, and it is the purpose of those conducting the work of collecting to interview every undergraduate.

Although over eight hundred dollars was subscribed at these two inaugural appeals, this comes from merely a small circle, and as yet the students as a body have not been canvassed. Basing their expectations upon the particular claim which the Ceylon Mission has on McGill men, and upon the success which has attended the opening of the campaign, those in charge have every ground for believing that the appeal will meet with a general, whole-hearted response.

The object of our local University Y. M. C. A. is entirely altruistic in the conducting of the present campaign, and no portion whatever of the proceeds are to be devoted to its support. McGill has been the first University to be approached on this matter of increased support to foreign missions, and in measuring up to the standard which it is expected she will attain to, a record will be established which should indeed prove an inspiration to other Universities.

MUST USE NATURAL ICE.

An increased quantity of natural ice will probably be required in the spring, summer and fall this year by dairymen and other dealers in perishable food products because the supply of artificial ice may be much reduced. Such reduction is anticipated in view of the greatly increased demand for ammonia, which is a by-product in connection with the production of illuminating gas, and also on account of the coal shortage which may reduce the supplies available for the operations of artificial ice plants. By storing a plentiful supply of natural ice

My doctrine is to lay aside Contentions and be satisfied; Just do your best and praise or blame, That follows that counts all the same. I've also noticed great success Is mixed with troubles more or less, And it's the man who does the best That gets more kicks than all the rest. —James Whitcomb Riley.

this winter a very important economy will be effected, and an ample amount of ice will be available for the warm weather.

Hailed as "a second Edison" is Lieut. Harold H. Vroom, Sci. '10, of the Royal Naval Volunteer Reserve (Motorboat Patrol), who has had an invention known as the Vroom hydrophone accepted by the Admiralty for use against enemy submarines. The inventor has been highly complimented by the Admiralty, which has also taken in hand a special invention of Lieut. Vroom. The latter writes that he received a great reception at the Admiralty on presenting his invention for acceptance.

Lieut. Vroom is a son of E. G. Vroom, St. Lambert, Que., and is a native of St. Stephen, N.B. He enlisted in May, 1916, as a sub-lieutenant, and in the spring of the following year won promotion to his present rank.

2nd Lt. R. Fairgrieve.

News has lately been received at the Congregational College that 2nd Lieut. Robert Fairgrieve, of Arts '14, had died of wounds at the Empire Hospital for Officers, London, England.

While an undergrad at McGill he was very much interested in student activities. He was always prominent at the meeting of the Literary Society, and was considered a good debater. He was chosen as debater by the Congregational College in the Intercollegiate Debate of the Theological Colleges, and came out with honour.

After graduation at McGill he went down to Yale to take up post graduate work, but war having been declared, he soon realized that he was needed at the front. Returning to Montreal, he enlisted in the Sanitary Section of the 2nd Division, and soon was promoted to sergeant and went overseas with them in this capacity. Soon after his arrival in France he was sent back to England for further training, and was enrolled in the Royal Artillery Cadet School. After the usual course of study he received his commission, and soon was back in France, as lieutenant.

Shortly after his arrival he was badly wounded, and was brought back to London with a shattered spine, which brought on paralysis of the legs and lower parts of the body. His recovery was hopeless from the start, but he had many rallies, and it seemed as if a recovery might be possible.

Being in London, which was his home before he came to Canada, he had the good fortune to have many visitors while he lay in hospital, and also had his mother and father with him most of the time.

He was given every possible attention, being under the care of a specialist with a European reputation, but recovery was hopeless.

After a long period of suffering, borne with the greatest of patience, he passed away on November 24th, and was buried on November 30th.

Major L. V. M. Cosgrave, D.S.O.

Major Lawrence V. M. Cosgrave, past student, who has been awarded a der, is in France with the Canadian Army, to which he has been attached since early in the war. He has previously been mentioned in despatches, and has suffered from shellshock. Major Cosgrave's home is in Toronto.

Capt. H. H. Hepburn, M.C.

English press despatches chronicle the award of the Military Cross to Captain H. H. Hepburn, Med. '10, of the Royal Army Medical Corps, attached to the Royal Artillery, who "remained with his battery attending the wounded until withdrawal, and showed coolness and courage with utter disregard for his own personal safety, and greatly heartened all detachments." Capt. Hepburn was studying in Berlin with a fellow-graduate, Capt. A. L. Lockwood, M.C., when war was declared, and with difficulty escaped to England, where he immediately enlisted with the R. A. M. C. and went to France. He was thus one of the first Canadians to reach France.

Capt. C. Cedric Ryan, M.C.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ryan, Sackville,

N.B., have received word from overseas to the effect that their son, Lieut. Charles Cedric Ryan, Sci. '13, serving overseas as staff officer with a brigade of Royal Field Artillery, has been promoted to his captaincy, and has also won the Military Cross. Captain Ryan has been overseas for some time, and took high rank in his qualifying course in England.

Lt. E. L. Rainboth, M.C.

According to advices received in Ottawa, the Military Cross has been awarded to Lieut. E. L. Rainboth, Sci. '17, who is serving in France as officer in command of a machine gun section. Lieut. Rainboth, who will be remembered as a member of the McGill hockey team in 1915, and as captain of the 77th Battalion hockey team, enlisted with the latter unit, and later was transferred to a British Columbia unit, ultimately being placed in command of a machine gun unit. He is a son of E. J. Rainboth, D.L.S., Ottawa.

RECEIVES PROMOTION.

Capt. W. H. Abbott, M.C.

A McGill man who has been overseas since October, 1914, and who has risen in rank from gunner to captain, has been honoured in the person of Captain William H. Abbott, Sci. '16, who is awarded the Military Cross. Capt. Abbott is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. William Abbott, Grosvenor Avenue, Westmount. He enlisted in 1914 as a gunner in a battery of the First Canadian Division, and served in France, first with that rank and later as a sergeant, until he was awarded a commission and returned to England to assist in the training of reinforcements. While engaged in this work his name was brought to the notice of the Secretary of State for War. Capt. Abbott played class football at McGill.

Capt. W. C. Nicholson, M.C.

Captain William Cedric Nicholson, Arts '13, Law '15, who has been awarded the Military Cross, is a son of Dr. J. A. Nicholson, Registrar of the University. While still a student of the Faculty of Law, he enlisted as a trooper in the 5th Canadian Mounted Rifles, with which unit he went overseas and to France. Recalled to England to take out a commission, he became attached to the Canadian Machine Gun Corps, and returned to France in this capacity, ultimately being promoted to the rank of captain, and to the command of an Artillery Battery. Capt. Nicholson was wounded at Passchendaele. He was a member of the Students' Council in 1914-15, and president of McGill Daily for a time. He was also quite well known as a hockey player. A brother, Lieut. J. G. Nicholson, is with the 38th Canadians in France.

Lieut. H. M. Ross, M.C.

According to advices received in Victoria, B.C., the Military Cross has been awarded to Lieut. Herbert M. Ross, Arts '16, of the 42nd Battalion, C.E.F., for gallantry during the fighting on the Ypres section in November last, when he was severely wounded. A brother, Lieut. W. C. Ross, Arts '15, already holds the same decoration. Lieut. H. M. Ross went overseas with the 103rd Battalion from British Columbia, and later transferred.

It is feared by relatives of Flight Sub-Lieut. Samuel S. Richardson, N. A. S., Sci. '17, reported missing, that he met his death in one of the air raids upon German centres in December. Flight Sub-Lieut. Richardson was president of his class before he enlisted.

Lieut. A. B. Ritchie, M.C., Sci. '06, of the Canadian Engineers, has been promoted to the rank of major.

Capt. J. H. Edgar, Sci. '03, who went overseas with the 60th Battalion, and who was wounded, has been seconded for duty with the War Office.

Capt. T. A. MacLean, Sci. '08, who crossed with the 5th Pioneers, and who later transferred to the Canadian Railway Troops, has been promoted to the rank of major, as has Lieut. Charles Tupper, Sci. '01, also with the Railway Troops.

Promotions in the C. A. M. C. gazetted include the following:

To be colonels: Lt.-Col. C. A. Peters, Med. '98; R. P. Wright, Med. '08; E. C. Hart, Med. '94; S. H. McKee, Med. '00.

To be lieutenant-colonels—Majors J. C. Meakin, Med. '04; T. A. Starkey, Med. '11; L. E. W. Irving, past student; D. A. Whitton, Med. '98; A. T. Bazin, Med. '94; A. L. C. Gilday, Arts '98, Med. '09; L. C. Harris, Med. '02.

To be majors—Capt. W. P. McAllister, Med. '10; D. W. McKechnie, Med. '03; C. Cartwright, Med. '01. Gunner A. St. B. Harrison, past student, serving with the C.F.A., has been wounded.

The marriage of Major A. L. S. Mills, D.S.O., Law '14, and Miss Martha Georgina Smithers, of Montreal, will take place at St. James the Apostle Church on February 2nd.

Among McGill men now home on leave are Major G. E. Jacques, Sci. '14, and Lieut. W. McLea Walbank, Sci. '15.

Lieut. Charles H. Webb, Sci. '15, is now on duty in the North Sea as officer in command of a mine sweeper. After having been twice wounded while on duty in France with the Signal Corps, Lieut. E. C. MacDermot, Sci. '12, has returned to his home in Montreal on leave.

The marriage was solemnized at New Glasgow, N.S., on December 3 last, of Miss Gladys Lawrence, daughter of Captain and Mrs. Albert Lawrence, Hantsport, N.S., and Major R. H. Sutherland, Med. '07, of the C. A. M. C. Major Sutherland has been home on furlough for the first time in three years.

Squadron Commander R. H. Mulock, D.S.O., Sci. '08, whose advance in the Royal Naval Air Service has been brilliant and meteoric, has received still further promotion. The London Gazette announces that he has been promoted to the rank of wing commander. Wing Commander Mulock enlisted as a gunner with the First Canadian Division. He won his D.S.O. for good work at Dunkirk, and not long ago was mentioned in despatches and awarded the French Legion d'Honneur.

Major W. E. C. Irwin, Sci. '11, of the P.P.C.L.I., has returned overseas after a long furlough in Canada. Lt.-Colonel A. S. Donaldson, Med. '01, and Major F. B. Caron, Med. '98, now in France as Medical Officer of a brigade of artillery, were recently together in Paris on leave.

Capt. A. G. Haultain, Sci. '10, formerly of the 11th Field Company, Canadian Engineers, and Sergt. B. J. Woodruff, Sci. '16, late 2nd Canadians, are now attached to the 2nd Eastern Ontario Depot Battalion at Ottawa pending discharge.

Lieut. E. A. Corbett, M.A., Arts '09, who left his duties as general secretary of the McGill Y.M.C.A., to engage in work among the soldiers overseas, is now educational work director of the Y.M.C.A. in the Seaford Area, Sussex, England. Flight Lieut. Frank S. McGill, past student, has been promoted to the rank of flight commander in the Royal Naval Air Service.

BIBLE CLASSES TO-NIGHT.

At 6 o'clock sharp, the usual bean supper will be served, preceding the Bible Class meetings. Those who were present last Monday will no doubt agree that no student who stands for high and noble ideals of life can afford to miss this one hour per week period, in which so much can be learned of the Bible and Social problems of the day.

The teachers will be more than anxious to see the regulars of the first term, and also the new members who have signified their intention of using one hour a week for the next six weeks in this beneficial way. Every student is welcome at Strathcona Hall at 6 o'clock to-night.

FRANK MCGILL WILL RETURN.

Word has been received by his father, John J. McGill, that Frank McGill has received furlough, and will return to Canada, for a short holiday. He went overseas in August, 1915, and was attached to the Naval Air Service as a Flight Lieutenant. He has lately been promoted to the rank of Flight Commander, as was announced in Friday's Daily.

With the exception of six weeks spent in hospital, as a result of injuries sustained by a fall from his machine during the first weeks of training, he has been on continuous active service.

While at McGill Frank was prominent in the sphere of athletics, principally in connection with the Senior Water Polo team.

The Royal Military College of Canada.

THERE are few national institutions of more value and interest to the country than the Royal Military College of Canada. Notwithstanding this, its object and the work it is accomplishing are not sufficiently understood by the general public.

The College is a Government Institution, designed primarily for the purpose of giving instructions to all branches of military science to Cadets and Officers of the Canadian Militia. In fact, it corresponds to Woolwich and Sandhurst.

The Commandant and military instructors are all officers on the active list of the Imperial army, lent for the purpose, and there is in addition a complete staff of professors for the civil subjects which form such an important part of the College course. Medical attendance is also provided.

Whilst the College is organized on a strictly military basis the cadets receive a practical and scientific training in subjects essential to a sound modern education.

The course includes a thorough grounding in Mathematics, Civil Engineering, Surveying, Physics, Chemistry, French and English. The strict discipline maintained at the College is one of the most valuable features of the course, and in addition, the constant practice of gymnastics, drills and outdoor exercises of all kinds, ensure health and excellent physical condition.

Commissions in all branches of the Imperial service and Canadian Permanent Force are offered annually. The diploma of graduation is considered by the authorities conducting the examination for Dominion Land Surveyor, and by the Regulations of a degree, and by the Regulations of a degree, and by the Regulations of a degree.

The length of the course is three years in three terms of 9½ months each.

The total cost of the course, including board, uniform, instructional material, and all other expenses, is covered by the Government.

The annual competitive examination for admission to the College, takes place in June of each year, at the headquarters of the several military districts.

For full particulars regarding this examination and for any other information, application should be made to the Secretary of the Militia Council, Ottawa, Ont., or to the Commandant, Royal Military College, Kingston, Ont.

PROVINCE OF QUEBEC

DEPARTMENT OF COLONIZATION, MINES AND FISHERIES. The chief minerals of the Province of Quebec are Asbestos, Chromite, Copper, Iron, Gold, Molybdenite, Phosphate, Mica, Graphite, Ornamental and Building Stone, Clays, Etc.

The Mining Law gives absolute security of Title and is very favourable to the Prospector.

MINERS' CERTIFICATES.

First of all, obtain a miner's certificate, from the Department in Quebec, or from the nearest agent. The price of this certificate is $10.00, and it is valid until the first of January following. This certificate gives the right to prospect on public lands and on private lands, on which the mineral rights belong to the Crown.

The holder of this certificate may stake mining claims to the extent of 200 acres.

WORKING CONDITIONS.

During the first six months following the staking of the claim, work on it must be performed to the extent of at least twenty-five days of eight hours.

SIX MONTHS AFTER STAKING.

At the expiration of six months from the date of the staking, the prospector, to retain his rights, must take out a mining license.

MINING LICENSE.

The mining license may cover 40 to 200 acres in unsurveyed territory. The price of this license is Fifty Cents an acre per year, and a fee of $10.00 on issue. It is valid for one year, and is renewable on the same terms, on producing an affidavit that during the year work has been performed to the extent of at least twenty-five days' labor on each forty acres.

MINING CONCESSION.

Notwithstanding the above, a mining concession may be acquired at any time at the rate of $5.00 an acre for SUPERIOR METALS, and $3.00 an acre for INFERIOR METALS.

The attention of prospectors is specially called to the territory in the North-Western part of the Province of Quebec, north of the height of land where important mineralized belts are known to exist.

PROVINCIAL LABORATORY.

Special arrangements have been made with the POLYTECHNIC SCHOOL of Laval University, 228 St. Denis Street, Montreal, for the analysis of minerals at very reduced rates for the benefit of miners and prospectors in the Province of Quebec. The well equipped laboratories of this institution and its trained chemists ensure results of undoubted integrity and reliability.

The Bureau of Mines at Quebec will give all the information desired in connection with the mines and mineral resources of the Province, on application addressed to making the tally 5 to 1 still in favour of the Arts team. The latter now used their substitutes freely, and staved off the determined rushes of their opponents. Bolly and Ness played hard, but could not score. The slippery condition of the ice and the fact that a chill wind swept the rink rendered the contest rather slow at times, and the second period ended without any further additions to the score.

The third period was in some ways the most interesting of all. The agricultural men were working hard to pile up a score, but missed several chances in front of the McGill goal. After some exciting play, Jack Ritchie potted one past Richardson for the sixth tally. This seemed to put the Macdonald men upon their mettle, and they kept up a close attack upon their adversaries. It was not until only about five minutes of play remained that Galley ended the scoring for the Junior-Sophomore team. For the remainder of the time, the play, while fast and furious, was uneventful. The Arts men played their substitutes almost entirely, and succeeded in holding the "Mac." team scoreless. The final whistle blew with the score 7-1 for the visitors.

For the Macdonald team, Bolly, Ness and Reed were the most effective, although they all played a hard game. Richardson made some nice stops in goals. On the Arts line-up, Holtham, Galley and MacGibbon were the stars, and put in some good work. Ford blocked several hot ones in the final period.

After the game, the team went over to the men's residence, where they took off their skates and assumed their ordinary garb once more. Following this, as the hour was waxing late and hunger was manifesting itself among the hard-working members of the team, they proceeded to the station, where they waited an hour for the train, which they finally boarded, casting a regretful glance at the roofs of Macdonald College, where they had received such hospitality.

The train was unfortunately three-quarters of an hour late, which made some of the more ravenous exclaim in annoyance, but otherwise nothing occurred to mar the afternoon. Altogether the trip was a thorough success, and was enjoyed by all who took part. The Macdonald men are to be congratulated upon the way in which they took their defeat.

The line-up was as follows:

REV. GEO. ADAM WILL SPEAK ABOUT LAUDER

Pastor of Emmanuel Church Will Give Lecture on Great Comedian.

The Rev. George Adam, Pastor of Emmanuel Church, is already known to many McGill graduates and students as the friend of Harry Lauder, who brought the latter to Montreal last autumn. Those who heard Harry Lauder will want to hear more of his visits to the men in the trenches, in camp, in billets and in hospital. From the friend who accompanied him on his tour, "Mr. Adam is to give his lecture on "With Harry Lauder at the Front," on Tuesday February 12th, at 8.30 p.m., at the Ritz-Carlton, and it is expected that the lecture will be illustrated with plenty of Scotch songs. Sir William Peterson is to take the chair.

The proceeds of the lecture are to be devoted to the funds of the McGill Women's Union, and will be expended in the purchase of material, which the members make up into comforts for men overseas.

There is no need to recommend either the lecture or the object to McGill students. If they want cheerful and stirring entertainment, they know where they may find it on February 12th, and they have heard already of the parcels of socks, shirts, mufflers, caps and surgical dressings that are packed frequently and regularly by the McGill Women's Union, and which travel with messages of goodwill and thanks to many McGill men in various units overseas.

Tickets may be obtained at the Ritz-Carlton (book stall), and from the members of the McGill Women's Union. Mr. Melville has kindly undertaken to keep some available at the Secretary's Office, McGill Union.

and a half dollars to the cause of war relief. He said that the real question was whether those of us who remained at home were going to be prepared to take up the great task of building a new world out of the chaos and disintegration which surrounds us. Are we going back to the old Pagan beliefs which are at the root of all this strife and destruction, or are we going to insure the future of the world against a repetition of this world upheaval? Is there any greater task to which the students who are left could dedicate themselves than to the building of a new world? We have come to the end of an epoch in the history of the world. Am I willing, in the spirit in which my comrades have gone forth to France, to do my best in the building of this new world?

Mr. Porter then remarked upon the advantageous situation in Ceylon as a centre from which to carry on the work of Christianizing the surrounding countries. It is a strategic point from which leaders will go forth to spread the word of God throughout these parts in which the need is great. "The possibilities are wonderful in connection with this work to which McGill has set her hand." There are or ought to be some at least at McGill who can see their way clear to undertake this work of spreading the Gospel, but the response financially should be whole-hearted and unanimous. Can this donating of money even until it hurts be regarded as sacrifice, that is sacrifice in the sense in which we are coming to understand the term? "May God forgive us if we drift through college this year and spend as much money on food, clothing and amusement as we did last year."

Here the speaker referred to the meeting of last night, and to the excellent example set by those in attendance on that occasion, who, though few in number, contributed over four hundred dollars. He expressed the hope that the same spirit would characterize those who had not already responded to the appeal. McGill, as the first University on the continent to be appealed to in this cause, has an opportunity to establish a record which will be an inspiration to other Universities.

Donald MacLeod, General Secretary of the McGill Y.M.C.A., then expressed his conviction that the students of McGill should avail themselves of this opportunity. In light of the self-sacrifice displayed by our comrades, not only on the fields of Flanders, but by such men as Gordon Brown in Ceylon, we should at least willingly make the most trivial sacrifice of all, that of the subscribing of our money.

The subscription cards were then distributed by the ushers, but before they were signed Mr. Porter led in a brief prayer. A few minutes were then devoted to the filling out of the cards, which were then collected.

A hurried survey of the receipts disclosed the fact that over four hundred dollars had been donated. This subscription included several one hundred dollar promises, and various other intermediate sums. The contribution, therefore, from both meetings combined amounted to well over eight hundred dollars. One notable feature was the fact that several of the subscriptions of Saturday night were doubled yesterday afternoon.

The appeal of Saturday evening and of yesterday afternoon, however, touched only a small student representation, and both these occasions were merely introductory to the general appeal which will be made to-day and Tuesday. Every undergraduate will be given ample opportunity to contribute to this highly meritorious cause, and a hearty response is looked for by the management.

MCGILL JUNIOR TEAM DEFEATED ORNSTOWN

Game Well Contested—McGill Tallied 4 to Ormstown's 3, Friday Night.

On Friday night last the McGill Junior hockey team defeated an Ormstown sextette in a closely contested game, the final score being 4 to 3. Ormstown scored the first goal, but McGill soon warmed to the play, and before the end of the first period had also scored. In the second period Ormstown again scored the first goal, and once again the visiting team tied the score. After ten minutes' play in the third period McGill forged ahead, and before long had clinched the game. Rothchild scoring after a final rush. Ormstown scored once more by a long shot past Lally just before time was called. The play was very clean all through the game, and the ice was in excellent shape. The McGill team played good hockey throughout, and are hoping for a return game, with the promise of a dance afterwards. The line-up was as follows:—

McGill.	Ormstown.

McKinnon	Cover.

NECESSARY.

John Henry was keeping company with Myrtle Marie, and when the father of the latter returned from the office one evening he was timidly approached by his pretty daughter.
"Papa," said the fair one, "did John Henry call on you this morning?"
"Yes," answered the paternal one, "but I couldn't make out much of what he said."
"Couldn't make out what he said!" returned Myrtle Marie, wonderingly. "What do you mean?"
"As near as I could understand," explained papa, "he said he wanted to marry me; that you had enough money to support him, and that we had always loved each other, so I told him to go home and write it out in plain English."
